

Would you like to be a PRECINCT ELECTION OFFICIAL?

The major responsibility of a Precinct Election Official is to provide each person who is eligible to vote the opportunity to do so while assuring the privacy and secrecy of each vote. The duties in each precinct are shared among the officials. Each precinct has a chairperson who has extra responsibilities. "Notification to Serve" postcards are sent out before every election asking if you are available to work that election. The number of officials needed varies by precinct and by election depending on the expected number of voters. Therefore, you may not receive notification to serve for every election.

Duties of a Precinct Election Official:

- Attend training before each election they are assigned to work.
- Arrive an hour before the polls open to set up the polling place and voting equipment.
- Take the official oath, binding them to be impartial and ensure the integrity of the election.
- Verify that persons are eligible and qualified to vote.
- Instruct voters how to properly mark their ballot and how to use the voting equipment.
- Close the polling place, complete paperwork and clean up the area.
